

Immigration Lawyers in Belleville

Immigration Lawyers in Belleville - Some of the aspects of employment law which our firm is experienced at include the drafting of independent contractor and employment agreements, providing advise regarding legislative requirements and human rights, and educating both employees and employers about the subject of wrongful dismissal.

Employment law plays a huge role and can have a devastating effect on the workplace should it be ignored. Among the possible damages comprise the loss of valued employees, lost in revenue and creating an undesirable working environment. Any of these issues can start to tarnish a businesses reputation. At our company, we strongly encourage our clients to make independent contractor and employment agreements, and workplace training, to try and minimize future problems.

Our company has proudly represented our clients in all levels of court within British Columbia. We also have extensive skill in arbitrations and mediations.

The many aspects of employment related law which we deal with on a regular basis include the drawing up contractor and employment agreements, advising about worker's compensations, employment standards, human rights, and occupational safety and health issues, helping prepare workplace manuals, and taking part in arbitration and mediation.