

Estate Planning Belleville

Estate Planning Belleville - Wealth preservation is amongst our firm's main areas of practice. Our Wills and Estates lawyers have expertise in handling many matters regarding the lawful requirements associated to testamentary dispositions.

Some of the aspects which are covered under the broad definition of Wills and Estates are the formation of trusts, estate planning, establishment of charitable bequests, and the preparation of wills. Our experts will be pleased to help you with any of these, together with whichever other necessary deeds or instruments associated to personal estates.

In addition to the above, our assistance likewise extend to offering recommendation to individuals or trust companies. We help them in planning the administration of estates, give recommendation to estate beneficiaries regarding protection of their legal rights, and services that help make sure that the obligations and duties of trustees and executors are clear and understood by everybody involved.