

Lawyers in Belleville

Lawyers in Belleville - Tax law is involved in an amazingly large amount of daily activities and are in nearly each and every day-to-day transaction involving cash. Often, there is just cause to break a deal on the way the tax laws are implicated in a merger or partnership. Utilizing their experience and resourcefulness, our lawyers can usually turn what was a deal breaker into a deal maker. We ensure that up-to-date tax advice is provided in both commercial and corporate transactions by communicating together with our colleagues in several practices of law. We have a wide range of clients, from high net worth people to all levels of governments and worldwide corporations.

Our tax litigators could provide efficient and cost-effective handling of a variety of tax disputes. The lawyers we choose to join our firm, we make certain they are well rounded in both litigation and tax. Our lawyers and chartered accountants have worked for the provincial tax departments in addition to the federal Department of Justice. We prefer to attain ideal resolutions rapidly, but whenever considered necessary our lawyers are fully capable of representing our clients in court.
