

Criminal Defence Lawyers Belleville

Criminal Defence Lawyers Belleville - Our company specializes in providing legal advice in technology law for technology-related companies. The growing field of technology law now comprises e-commerce, computer software and hardware, pharmaceutical, biotechnology, telecommunications, multimedia, television and film, broadcasting, interactive media, and Web-related industries. Today's technology businesses require expert suggestion suited to their unique needs.

Our firm concentrates on technology law in the field of mergers, private and public financings, divestitures and acquisitions, licensing agreements and technology agreements. Clients seek out our services and our technology law experts for particular assistance connected to contract negotiation and other various transactions. Other services consist of employment audit and intellectual property, the preparation of agreements, like for instance employment and consulting agreements, and agreements related to technology distribution and marketing. Intellectual property protection concerns copyrights, trade-marks, industrial designs, trade secrets and patents. E-commerce problems include infrastructure and website development, maintenance agreements and internet access.

Our technology law practitioners work in conjunction with Intellectual Property, Commercial, Securities, Labour & Employment, and Tax & Trusts lawyers to provide recommendation to technology clients on different corporate matters. Technology law experts work with private venture funds that provide capital to emerging technology companies.

In situations of infringement of our clients' patents, copyright, trade-marks, or trade secrets, technology litigation lawyers represent the interests of clients before all levels of court. Litigation lawyers act rapidly to resolve employment, intellectual property, contractual and financing disputes before they escalate. The early identification of possible issues is a top priority. In order to prevent problematic matters connected to unjust trade practices and misleading and false advertising, clients get advice concerning the legalities of advertising and the correct marketing of services and products. Assistance is provided on such legal problems as trade-mark use and registration, privacy, labeling and packaging, as well as comparative advertising.
