

Crown Attorney Belleville

Crown Attorney Belleville - We offer advice and services to a wide range of large and small, public and private companies regarding business problems. Religious corporations and non-profit entities are some of the groups we likewise advise.

We work closely along with our clients so as to help them form publicly traded and privately held corporations, limited partnerships, limited liability companies, sole proprietorships and partnerships. We even assist our clients and their accountants to make sure that their business transactions are structured in a manner that is the most tax advantageous. We think about both short-term income tax considerations and longer-term estate tax implications. In our work with small and big mergers and acquisitions, we take into consideration tax, legal and business implications while structuring acquisitions and de-acquisitions in the way most beneficial to our client's.

We are able to structure lots of equity arrangements, like for example re-capitalizations, for raising the capital of the businesses. The goal of our firm is to guarantee full compliance of the laws relating to the SEC, securities offerings and state regulatory compliance.

Various services that a company can provide to our clients include: drafting, reviewing and negotiating capital business agreements and other arrangements like sales and manufacturers' representative agreements, joint venture agreements, non-competition, licenses and confidentiality agreements, distributorship agreements, and employment agreements. We are skilled at drafting and preparing stock options, stock awards and phantom stock arrangements for select staff.

We have experience in helping family businesses with the transition of ownership to a later generation or a group of employees.
