

Securities Lawyer Belleville

Securities Lawyer Belleville - Our clients require our services to assist them in accessing both the public and private capital markets. We give advice concerning the accumulation of money within the applicable structures of securities policies, laws and regulations. Both underwriters and issuers are part of our client base, looking for assistance with offerings of debt and equity securities. Additionally, we even represent investors and issuers about venture capital and seed capital offerings and private placements. Our company can also assist our clients in meeting applicable continuous disclosure and yearly meeting requirements.

Our office often represents some law companies throughout the nation. We help in the completion of cross-jurisdictional transactions, that often needs us to analyze a transaction from the regulatory compliance's point of view, sending whatever necessary applications to the Securities Commission, and meeting with employees at the Commission.

National and local publicly traded issuers, venture capital funds, independent corporate finance firms, the securities divisions of chartered banks, law firms, portfolio managers and investment counsel, and mutual funds consultants are all among our diverse client base.
